All —

UCLA Law School's Criminal Defense Clinic released a report and accompanying press release last week in support of the street vending legalization in LA. The report doesn't seem to include any original research and essentially reads like an op-ed from the pro-legalization folks.

It doesn't look like this has gotten any press yet, but we'll continue to monitor.

We are currently building a list of small business owners to act as potential spokespeople as we roll out our own earned media campaign. If you have any small business owners in your district that you think have a compelling story to share, please connect us if you haven't already.

Thanks again for working with us so closely on our advocacy efforts to oppose Huizar's street vending ordinance.

Thanks,
Jessica
